Plea 1 THE CLERK: In the matter of United States against 2 John Galanis. 3 Counsel, please state your name for the record. MS. HECTOR: Good morning, your Honor. Aimee Hector, 4 5 Rebecca Mermelstein and Brian Blais for the government. 6 MR. BLAIS: Good morning, your Honor. 7 THE COURT: Good morning. MR. TOUGER: Good morning, your Honor. David Touger, 8 9 T-o-u-g-e-r, for Mr. Galanis. 10 THE COURT: Good morning. 11 Good morning, Mr. Galanis. 12 THE DEFENDANT: Good morning, your Honor. 13 THE COURT: My name is Judge Netburn. 14 Sir, I have before me a Consent to Proceed Before a 15 United States Magistrate Judge on a Felony Plea Allocution that you have signed. What this form says is that knowing you have 16 17 the right to have this plea taken by a United States district 18 judge, you are agreeing instead to have this plea taken by me, 19 a United States magistrate judge. Is that correct? 20 THE DEFENDANT: That is correct, your Honor. 21 THE COURT: Before you signed this form, did your 22 lawyer explain it to you?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, he did.

THE COURT: It is accepted.

Is the defendant charged in all counts in the Indictment or just Counts One and Two?

MS. HECTOR: No, your Honor. Counts One and Two. Oh, he is charged in additional counts but he is pleading to Counts One and Two.

THE COURT: All right. I know he is pleading, but he is charged in all of the counts?

MS. HECTOR: Not all of the counts, and I could describe for your Honor -- one moment. One, Two, Three and Four, but he is pleading to One and Two.

THE COURT: Correct. OK. Sir, I have before me a multi-count Indictment. I understand that you are charged in Counts One, Two, Three and Four of the Indictment and that you are here in connection with Counts One and Two of the Indictment.

Count One charges you with conspiracy to commit securities fraud from at least 2009 through 2011, in violation of Title 18 of the United States Code, Section 371.

Count Two charges you with securities fraud, the substantive act of securities fraud, from the same period, 2009 through 2011, in violation of Title 15 of the United States Code, Section 78j(b) and 78ff, and Title 17, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 240.10b-5, and Title 18 of the United States Code, Section 2.

I understand that in connection with Counts One and Two, you wish to change your plea and enter a plea of guilty as

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: Before deciding whether to accept your guilty plea, I'm going to ask you certain questions. It's very important that you answer these questions honestly and completely. The purpose of these proceedings is to make sure that you understand your rights, to decide whether you are pleading guilty of your own free will, and to make sure that you are pleading guilty because you are guilty and not for some other reason.

Do you understand what I am saying?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: If at any point in time you don't understand my questions or if you want an opportunity to speak with your lawyer, please says so because it is important that you understand every question before you answer. Will you do that?

THE DEFENDANT: Thank you, your Honor. Yes.

THE COURT: Mr. Mendieta, will you swear in the defendant, please.

THE CLERK: Please stand and raise your right hand.

(The defendant was sworn)

THE CLERK: Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you, sir.

THE DEFENDANT: Thank you.

Sir, can I have your full name? 2 3 THE DEFENDANT: John Peter Galanis. 4 THE COURT: And how old are you? 5 THE DEFENDANT: I'm 73 years old. 6 THE COURT: Are you a United States citizen? 7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I am a U.S. citizen. THE COURT: How far have you gone in school, sir? 8 9 THE DEFENDANT: In school? 10 THE COURT: Did you complete college? 11 THE DEFENDANT: I completed college. I went to a year 12 of law school and I also did some graduate finance work. 13 THE COURT: Are you currently or have you recently 14 been under the care of a doctor or a psychiatrist for any 15 reason? THE DEFENDANT: I have been under the care of various 16 17 doctors but for essentially physical ailments. 18 THE COURT: OK. 19 THE DEFENDANT: No psychiatric. 20 THE COURT: OK. THE DEFENDANT: THE COURT: You understand what it says? 18 THE DEFENDANT: 19 T do. 20 THE COURT: As I mentioned earlier, you have been 21 charged, at least with respect to the counts that you intend to 22 change your plea, in Count One for conspiracy to commit 23

THE COURT: Do you want me to read the Indictment to you in open court?

THE DEFENDANT: No, your Honor. I waive the reading of the Indictment.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Have you had time to talk to your attorney about these charges and about how you wish to plead?

THE DEFENDANT: I have, your Honor.

THE COURT: Has he told you the consequences of pleading guilty?

(Pause)

Has he told you the consequences of pleading guilty?

THE DEFENDANT: He has.

THE COURT: Are you satisfied with your attorney's representation of you?

THE DEFENDANT: I am very satisfied.

THE COURT: Sir, I'm now going to explain certain constitutional rights that you have. These are rights that you will be giving up if you enter a guilty plea. Please listen carefully to what I am about to say, and if you don't understand something, please stop me and your attorney or I will explain the issue more fully.

Under the Constitution and the laws of the United States, you have the right to plead not guilty to the charges contained in this Indictment. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: If you pled not guilty, you would be entitled under the Constitution to a speedy and public trial by a jury of those charges. At that trial you would be presumed innocent, and the government would be required to prove you guilty beyond a reasonable doubt before you could be found guilty. That means that you would not have to prove that you are innocent, and you would not be convicted unless a jury of 12 people agreed unanimously that you are guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: If you decide to go to trial, at that trial and at every stage of your case you would have the right to be represented by an attorney, and if you cannot afford one, one would be appointed to represent you at the government's expense and at no cost to you. Having retained counsel, if you run out of money, an attorney would be appointed to continue to represent you. When an attorney is appointed, that attorney is appointed to handle your case all the way through trial and not just for a guilty plea, so your decision to plead guilty here today should not depend on whether you can afford to hire an attorney. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: During a trial, the witnesses for the prosecution would have to come to court and testify in your presence where you could see and hear them and your lawyer could cross-examine those witnesses, and if you wanted, your lawyer could offer evidence on your behalf. You would be able to use the Court's power to compel witnesses to come to court and testify in your defense even if they did not want to come.

Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: At a trial, you would have the right to testify in your own defense if you wanted to, but you would also have the right not to testify, and if you chose not to testify, that could not be used against you in any way. No inference or suggestion of guilt could be made from the fact that you did not testify.

Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: If you were convicted at trial, you would have the right to appeal that verdict to a higher court. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: And as I said before, you have the right to plead not guilty. Even right now, even as you sit here today for the purposes of entering a guilty plea, you have the right to change your mind, persist in your not guilty plea, and proceed to trial. But if you do plead guilty and I accept your plea, there will be no trial and you will give up all of the rights that I have just described. All that will remain to be done will be to impose a sentence. You and the government will have a chance to make arguments about what that sentence should be, but there will not be any further trial to determine whether you are guilty or not guilty of the charges to which you pled guilty.

Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: Do you understand that the decision as to the appropriate sentence in your case will be entirely up to the sentencing judge and that that judge will be limited only by what the law requires. This means that even if you are surprised or disappointed by your sentence, you will still be bound by your guilty plea. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: Finally, if you do plead guilty, you are also giving up your right not to incriminate yourself, and I will ask you questions about what you did in order to satisfy myself that you are actually guilty. By pleading guilty you will be admitting the factual as well as legal guilt. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do.

THE COURT: You said earlier that you've read the Indictment containing the charges against you and you understand that you have been charged with conspiracy to commit securities fraud as well as securities fraud. I am now going to ask the Assistant United States Attorney to state the elements of those charges. The elements are the things that the government would have to prove beyond a reasonable doubt were the case to proceed to trial.

Please.

MS. HECTOR: Thank you.

With respect to Count One, the government must prove beyond a reasonable doubt the following element: First, the existence of the conspiracy, that is, the existence of an agreement or understanding to commit the unlawful object of the charged conspiracy, which in this case is securities fraud; second, that the defendant willfully and knowingly became a member of the conspiracy with the intent to further its illegal purposes; and, third, that any one of the conspirator knowingly committed at least one overt act in the Southern District of New York in furtherance of the conspiracy during the life of the conspiracy.

With respect to Count Two, the substantive securities fraud, the government must prove each of the following elements beyond a reasonable doubt: First, that in connection with the purchase or sale of stock or shares in a company, the defendant did any one of or more of the following: One, employed a device, scheme or artifice to defraud; two, made an untrue statement of a material fact, or omitted to state a material fact which made what was said under the circumstances misleading; or, three, engaged in any act, practice, or course of business that operated or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon a purchaser or seller; second, that the defendant acted knowingly, willfully, and with the intent to defraud; and, third, that the defendant used or caused to be used any means or instruments of transportation or communication in interstate commerce or the use of the mails in furtherance of the fraudulent conduct.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Sir, I am now going to tell you the maximum possible penalties for these crimes. The maximum means the most that could possibly be imposed. It does not necessarily mean this is what you will receive, but you have to understand that by pleading guilty here today you are exposing yourself to any combination of punishments up to the maximum that I am about to describe.

Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: With respect to Count One, it carries a maximum term of imprisonment of five years and a maximum term of supervised release of three years. With respect to Count Two, it carries a maximum term of imprisonment of 20 years followed by a maximum term of supervised release of three years. This means that if those two charges were to run consecutively, you would face a potential prison term of 25 years.

Let me advise you about supervised release.

Supervised release means that if you are sentenced to prison and thereafter released from prison, you may be subject to supervision by the Probation Department. You should understand that if you are placed on supervised release and thereafter violate any of the terms or conditions of that release, the district judge that imposed your sentence may revoke the term of supervised release that had been previously imposed and may return you to prison without giving you any credit for the time spent on post-release supervision.

Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: Second, in addition to these restrictions on your liberty, the maximum possible punishment also includes certain financial penalties.

With respect to Count One, the maximum allowable fine is the greatest of $250,000 or twice what was made by the criminal activity or twice what was lost by someone other than yourself because of the criminal activity. In connection with Count Two, the maximum allowable fine is the greatest of $5 million or twice what was made by the criminal activity or twice what someone other than yourself lost because of the criminal activity. In addition, there is a mandatory minimum fine, or special assessment, that must be imposed for each count of conviction in the amount of $100, which means that for both counts there will be a $200 special assessment, or mandatory fine, associated with the convictions.

Sir, has anyone threatened you or coerced you in any way to get you to plead guilty?

THE DEFENDANT: No, they have not, your Honor.

THE COURT: Has anyone other than the prosecution promised you or offered you anything to get you to plead guilty?

THE DEFENDANT: No, your Honor.

THE COURT: I understand that there is a plea agreement between you and the government in this case, is that correct?

THE DEFENDANT: That is correct, your Honor.

THE COURT: Did you have an opportunity to read this agreement before you signed it?

THE DEFENDANT: I did read it, yes, your Honor.

THE COURT: You understand its terms?

THE DEFENDANT: I do.

THE COURT: Did you have an opportunity to speak about this agreement with your lawyer before signing it?

THE DEFENDANT: I did, your Honor.

THE COURT: It appears that you and the government have agreed about the appropriate calculation of your sentence under the Sentencing Guidelines; is that correct?

THE DEFENDANT: That is correct, your Honor.

THE COURT: And in this agreement you have stipulated to a guidelines' range of between 97 to 121 months' imprisonment; is that correct?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, your Honor.

THE COURT: In addition, you have agreed that the appropriate fine range in this case is between $30,000 and $300,000; is that correct?

THE DEFENDANT: It is, your Honor.

THE COURT: You understand that in this agreement neither you nor the government is allowed to argue to the sentencing judge for a calculation that is different than the one in this agreement; do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: However, the agreement allows for either party to seek a sentence that is outside of this stipulated guidelines' range based on the sentencing factors which are found in our sentencing statute, which is located at Title 18 of the United States Code, Section 3553(a). Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: In this agreement you admitted to the forfeiture allegation with respect to Counts One and Two in the Indictment and agreed to forfeit a sum of money to the United States in the sum equal to $19,038,650.53. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: And you have agreed to the entry of the Consent Order of Forfeiture which was attached to the plea agreement. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: And you further agree that that order shall be final once it is ordered by the Court; do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: In addition, you have agreed to make restitution in an amount ordered by the Court; do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: In this agreement you have also limited in certain respects your ability to appeal from your conviction and sentence. Are you aware of that?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, your Honor.

THE COURT: OK. Specifically, you've agreed that you will not file a direct appeal or bring a collateral challenge, often called a habeas motion, or seek a sentence modification so long as your sentence is within or below the stipulated guidelines' range of 97 to 121 months' imprisonment. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: In addition, you have agreed that you will not appeal any term of supervised release that is less than or equal to the statutory maximum of three years and that you will not appeal any fine amount that is less than or equal to $300,000. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: You further agree that you will not appeal the forfeiture amount so long as it is less than or equal to $19,038,650.53. Do you understand all of that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: The most important thing for you to understand is that this plea agreement is not binding on the sentencing judge and that judge may reject the recommendations or the calculations that are set forth in this agreement and may impose a more severe sentence without allowing you to withdraw your guilty plea. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: The sentencing judge is required to make his own independent calculation under the Sentencing Guidelines and then to impose a sentence based on what he believes is the appropriate sentence for you even if that sentence is different from the one in this agreement. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do.

THE COURT: In determining that sentence, the Court will consider, in addition to the guidelines and possible departures from those guidelines, all of the factors that are set forth in the sentencings statute that I mentioned earlier, which, again, is found at Title 18 of the United States Code, Section 3553(a). Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: In addition, the Court will consider the presentence report, which is prepared by the Probation

Department in advance of your sentencing. Before you are sentenced, you and the government will have an opportunity to challenge the facts that are reported by the Probation Department. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: Sir, now that you have been advised of the charges against you, the possible penalties that you face, and the rights that you are giving up, is it still your intention to plead guilty to Counts One and Two of the Indictment?

THE DEFENDANT: It is, your Honor.

THE COURT: So with respect --

MS. HECTOR: Your Honor, I'm sorry. May I just interrupt for one second and just ask Mr. Touger something?

(Pause)

Your Honor, if I could just -- for the record, I just noticed that the fine range is actually incorrect because it should be 30,000 to 5 million instead of 300,000, because Count

Two allows for a fine up to $5 million. I just alerted Mr. Touger to that. It appears on page 3.

THE COURT: Right. I noticed.

MS. HECTOR: And also on page 5 in the appeal waiver. I apologize for that. We have just initialed that change.

THE COURT: I have the original here.

MS. HECTOR: And we should do so on the original, and I just wanted to sort of clarify for that and allow Mr. Touger to talk to his client before his client enters a plea pursuant to the plea agreement.

MR. TOUGER: We just got this, your Honor, and we realized the error.

THE COURT: OK.

MR. TOUGER: That won't change our --

THE COURT: Do you need any more time?

MR. TOUGER: No.

(Pause)

We are ready to proceed, your Honor.

THE COURT: Great.

Mr. Galanis, let me just make sure that you understand what just happened.

In the plea agreement it indicated that the possible maximum penalty with respect to Count Two was potentially $5 million, and I told you that when I was telling you about the possible maximum penalties you could face. The plea agreement incorrectly stated that the stipulated guidelines' range for the fine was only 30,000 to 300,000 when in fact it should have been 30,000 to $5 million.

Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: OK. And so because that's the stipulated fine range, you have agreed to forfeit any ability to appeal from a fine that is less than or equal to $5 million; do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.

THE COURT: Now that we've clarified that and you have heard about all of the penalties that you face, the charges against you, and the rights you are giving up, let me confirm again it is your intention to plead guilty to Counts One and Two of the Indictment?

THE DEFENDANT: It is, your Honor.

THE COURT: OK. With respect to Count One of the Indictment, how do you plead?

THE DEFENDANT: I plead guilty, your Honor.

THE COURT: And with respect to Count Two of the Indictment, how do you plead?

THE DEFENDANT: I plead guilty, your Honor.

THE COURT: OK. Can you tell me in your own words what you did to make you believe you are guilty of those charges?

THE DEFENDANT: Your Honor, would you mind, with your leave, I not stand up? It is a little difficult for me to stand.

THE COURT: That is quite all right. Absolutely. Thank you.

THE DEFENDANT: I, John Galanis, along with others, conspired to commit securities fraud in or about 2009 to in or about 2011 in that I and others openly managed brokerage accounts of an individual and effected the sale of Gerova stock and received and concealed proceeds derived therefrom knowing that this activity was designed to conceal from the investing public the true ownership and control of that Gerova stock.

I, along with others, willingly and knowingly, directly and indirectly, by means and use of instrumentalities of interstate commerce and the mails and other facilities of the National Securities Exchange, would and did use and employ manipulative and deceptive devices and contrivances in connection with the purchase and sale of securities, in violation of Title 17, Code of Federal Regulations, Section 240.10b-5 by employing devices, schemes, and artifices to defraud and making untrue statements of material fact and omitting to state material facts necessary in order to make the statements made in light of the circumstances under which they were made not misleading, and I and others engaged in acts, practices, and courses of business which operated and would

	Plea

2	THE COURT: Thank you, sir. I appreciate that you
3	just read something that reads like a lawyer's statement. So I
4	just want to confirm that you understand what you just read?
5	THE DEFENDANT: I do, your Honor.
6	THE COURT: And I appreciate that those were probably
7	your lawyer's words. Do you agree and adopt everything that
8	you just read?
9	THE DEFENDANT: I do. I understand the meaning of
10	that language, your Honor, and that's why I read it, because it
11	fully and accurately describes my activity.
12	THE COURT: OK. Anything else that you would like to
13	add in your own words?
14	THE DEFENDANT: Not at this time, your Honor. No.
15	THE COURT: Did you know that what you were doing was
16	illegal?
17	THE DEFENDANT: I'm sorry, your Honor.
18	THE COURT: Did you know that what you were doing at
19	the time was illegal?
20	THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I did, your Honor.
21	THE COURT: Any other questions you would like me to during the course of this conspiracy, the trades of the Gerova shares were executed on exchanges located in the Southern District of New York and, in addition, that this defendant caused at least some of the proceeds from the sale of those shares to be wired to a bank account located in New York, New York.

THE COURT: Does the government represent that it has sufficient evidence to prove the defendant guilty beyond a reasonable doubt at trial?

MS. HECTOR: Yes, your Honor, and the government would do so through witness testimony, documentary evidence, including emails, correspondence, business records, bank records and trading records.

THE COURT: Do you believe you have a sufficient allocution for the guilty pleas?

MS. HECTOR: Yes, we do, your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Sir, on the basis of your responses to my questions and my observation of your demeanor, I find that you are competent to enter a guilty plea. I'm satisfied that you understand your rights, including your right to go to trial, you are aware of the consequences of your plea, including the sentence that may be imposed, that you are voluntarily pleading guilty, and that you admitted that you are guilty as charged in Counts One and Two of the Indictment. For these reasons, I will recommend that District Judge Castel accept your plea of guilty as to Counts One and Two of the Indictment.

We have obtained the defendant's signature on a Consent Preliminary Order of Forfeiture Judgment, which we will provide to Judge Castel for his signature in connection with — in addition to sending him the transcript of these proceedings.

THE COURT: Has he set a sentencing date yet?

MS. HECTOR: Yes, your Honor, he has. December 2nd at 11a.m.

THE COURT: OK. And I will direct that a presentence report be prepared.

Any objection to continuing the present bail?

MS. HECTOR: No, your Honor.

THE COURT: Sir, let me remind you that all of the conditions on which you are released up to now continue to apply and a violation of those conditions can have very serious consequences, including revocation of bail and prosecution for bail-jumping. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, your Honor.

THE COURT: Also, if you commit any crime while you are released on bail, that may lead to a more severe punishment than you would get for committing the same crime at any other time. Of course, if you commit a crime or violate the plea agreement with the government in any way, you will be subject to revocation by the government of your plea agreement, with all of the consequences that are described in the agreement.
